

Data

The data used in this project will be sourced from Wikipedia, and government data collection websites. I have used data from a range of different sources so that I may piece together a picture of different factors affecting the viability of new property developments. The data sources can be found in the appendix, along with being referenced in the notebook, and consist of two types of data accumulation; csv tables and API requests. I have used the csv tables as the basis for my datasets, and the API requests to retrieve location data for the universities and buildings that I have used.
